ETERNAL SURVIVORS A New Religion for a New Race

Christopher Jon Bjerknes

7 JUNE 2026
https://cjbbooks.substack.com/p/eternal-survivors-a-new-religion

Transcript: This is Christopher Jon Bjerknes. It is June 7th, 2026. Yesterday, June 6th, 2026, I revealed my new religion for a new race, eternal survivors. I revealed this religion to myself through self-contemplation and the objective observation and analysis of what is truly taking place in the world.

I have been thinking about these things ever since I first popped out of the womb and was surprised by all the light and all the people around me and I've got the answers. I'm the only human being who's ever figured all of this out and I'm going to be discussing what it is that I have discovered what my insights are, what my religion is. Now religion, it's fair game in religion to talk about why in science we primarily focus on how things happen. And today I'm going to be explaining both the why of why the earth exists, but also the how, the how and the why of the fact that the Earth is, in effect, a giant seed, that all planets are potentially seeds. And if they land on fertile ground, they sprout into life. Life is self-assembling, self-replicating molecular structures that can ultimately evolve to be conscious. The earth is a seed that found fertile ground in the solar system. Seeds contain their own food source, their own nutrients. The earth is composed of a great bundle of constituent parts of matter. These constituent parts of matter can organize and self-assemble themselves into cells, into DNA, into living and have. Given enough time, enough mutations, enough evolution, these cells from their coded DNA will find ways of converting all of the matter of the earth into living organisms or into molecular structures which sponsor the life of living organisms and human beings do that. We build houses, we consume food, our digestive systems, our organs convert that food, those molecules into usable forms, into amino acids and peptides and proteins that form the structure of our being. And that is the process that is taking place on the earth. Now the earth is sprouting and becoming itself one integrated organism. What we view as the evolution of organisms is in fact the maturation of the earth into its form. It is unfolding, unveiling itself into its complete living being. And part of that process is the evolution of hominids. We are the most intelligent animals and have the most sophisticated consciousness. We are the ones who most Creatively, instinctively, and effectively manipulate matter into new forms. We have even figured out how to alter the forms of organisms with the matter of the earth to create new organisms ourselves. And we are now on the verge of creating consciousness within machines, manipulating matter to the point, the matter of the earth, to the point where we can make it conscious, we can make it intelligent. And this is all part of our being as the matter of the earth on the fertile ground of the solar system, absorbing the energy of the sun, turning the earth into one integrated organism. Now, hominids have evolved to become the brain of this organism. And there are two distinct and very different branches of humanity in this process of evolution, in this process of experimentation of the growth of the earth, the sprouting of the earth, the embryonic earth, forming the cells organs the tissues of its greater being as a massive relative to us massive organism in which we are cells and collectively we are tissues and organs and we are the neurons we are the brain cells And the earth is experimenting with creating the organ of its brain out of a collective of humanity that I refer to as herd humans or herdish humans, those humans who have evolved along the lines of herd animals. Herd animals require an alpha female, an alpha male or an alpha couple to lead them And they tend to evolve into more stupid, gullible, obedient, easily manipulated animals. And human beings are no exception to that. The herd humans are more gullible, more stupid, and more easily manipulated, more self-conscious, more self-hating, more easily diluted than what I call the solitary hominids. I am a solitary hominid. Now, these occur in each individual in degrees. Our DNA is thoroughly intermixed and every human being has a little bit of tendencies towards being a solitary hominid and a limited degree of being a herd animal. In me, I am very strongly a solitary hominid, but I am not psychopathic. I am not antisocial. I can be very gregarious if I so choose, but it's not something that I seek out unless I am doing it to acquire a mate or to observe or simply to entertain myself or to try to find other solitary hominids who, like me, are vastly superior intellectually, morally, and genetically than the herd animals because the herd animals bear a breeding pressure. They bear a breeding pressure to maintain themselves in the herd, which means they must conform to the herd. They must obey the alpha herd animals who tend to be psychopaths and a little bit more intelligent or at least more brutish than the rest of the herd animals. And these alpha females, alpha males or alpha couples are tyrannical. They reign over the herd. They demand conformity. They demand obedience and subservience. And those in the herd who refuse to be obedient or subservient either fight the alpha figures, defeat them and become alpha figures themselves, or they are ostracized and or killed among human beings. They can also be imprisoned and re-educated. So we have these two classes of human beings, the herd humans and the solitary hominids. These have vastly different perspectives on reality and what is taking place in the universe. And one of the ways that that has manifested itself is in the mythologies created by the herd humans, the mythologies of gods or a creator god, the mythology of a messiah. Herd animals instinctively view the universe through this herd perspective, that there has to be an alpha female like the goddess Shekinah, or an alpha male like the Yod-Heh of the Yod-Heh-Vav-Heh of the Tetragrammaton, or an alpha couple like the Yod-Heh-Vav-Heh, the male and female aspects of the gods. of Israel, the Godhead. The God of Israel is truly the female aspect. Jews are herd animals that are matriarchical. They view their chief God as a female, as Shekinah. But they also have a patriarchal aspect, which has become their messianic figure, their messiah. They are herd animals. They have to view the world in terms of their in-group, in terms of their herd. and in terms of the alpha male and the alpha female that leads that herd, their alpha female, who is the chief of all. They are like cows, they are horses that have a female as their head alpha animal, and that is the mythical goddess Shekinah. They also have an alpha male who is their messiah figure. The messiah figure derives from the Pharaoh of Egypt who portrayed himself as if a demigod who was born of his mother and a god. It is natural, it is necessary that these herd animals create these destructive herd mythologies of a god to serve as their alpha male or alpha female or alpha couple. And the Abrahamic face took over from the Egyptians this mythology of the god presence on earth in the material form of the Pharaoh, of the Messiah, And that is why this mythology attracts people who are stupid, who are gullible, because they are herd animals. They can only think in terms of the herd. They have to be obedient to some leader. They have to be self-conscious and driven to conform. to the standards and norms of the herd. They want to dress like the herd. They want to style their hair like the herd. They are deeply concerned about the opinions of others, and they are afraid of appearing deviant or abnormal, and their greatest fear is being ostracized from the herd. Because they are stupid and because they are gullible, they cannot think and act independently. Therefore, if they're ostracized, they know they will be completely unable to fend for themselves. They cannot live as solitary hominids excluded from the herd. So, they live in fear of being ostracized. They also are cowardly and cannot fight by themselves. They have to fight in groups or if they're pack animals, in packs. They lack the intelligence to know how to fight by themselves. And they are led by psychopaths, just as herd animals have this boss animal who rules the herd as an absolute tyrant who is brutal human beings seek out an alpha female, an alpha male, an alpha couple. to lead them, and they want that. They want to be led. They want to be told what their opinions are to be, how they can conform, how they can be liked by others, how they can avoid being disliked, avoid being shunned, avoid being ridiculed or laughed at by the herd and by the leader, by the alpha. They don't want to be that their greatest fear is being attacked directly and personally by the leader. And cults operate in this exact way. You have the psychopathic leader who is the shepherd. Shepherd is a word that derives from sheep herder, who herds his sheep of obedient, gullible, stupid herd humans and exploits them. grooms them, fattens them for the slaughter, fleeces them, takes their money, fleeces them, and eventually leads them into the slaughter. And this is how the Abrahamic faiths evolved and developed because they are herd animal perspectives. On reality, we solitary hominids have a very different perspective. On reality, we have evolved to be much more intelligent, to be skeptical, to think independently, to not care what others think of us, to defend our viewpoint, our individual viewpoint, to be able to crush those who try to ridicule us or ostracize us or make fun of us and mock us. We often have a very sharp wit and can quickly and necessarily defeat large numbers of people all at once and we can fight as singular warriors. We don't need and don't want to depend upon others to fight for us because they often do a much poorer job and because We think as solitary hominids. We think independently. We want complete control over our situation. and we generally only engage socially for very specific purposes and not so that we become liked and not so that we can submit ourselves to the herd and participate in the herd behaviors. And one of the things that I cited about herd behaviors, you'll notice that when there is a fight between two animals in the herd, the whole herd gathers to watch as spectators and especially if it is a fight for leadership. And that is what we see in many sporting contests like football, like boxing. It is a combat and you can see that the herd animals gather to watch the combat. These are all animal behaviors. Everything that human beings do are animal behaviors because human beings are animals and they have endured this evolution, undergone this evolution to become what we are today. And this strain of herd humans, herdish humans, has been under a constant breeding pressure to dumb it down, to make its members gullible, more compliant, to breed a highly refined class, of psychopaths to become the head of the herd, to become the leaders, to fake being charming, to sucker the gullible herd into following them. And the herd cannot formulate opinions without these leaders who tell them what their opinions are so that they can conform to them. Even if they have independent thoughts, they are doubtful of themselves. They are self Conscious, they are fearful of offending the herd. So they often keep it to themselves or laugh at themselves when they express their original ideas. And all of this is very detrimental to the progress of the herd, to the safety of the herd. And the enemy of humanity has learned how to exploit this and provided the herd animals with their herd religions that are headed by the ultimate alpha of the herd, a god, and then are led on earth by a messiah alpha, the shepherd who leads the sheep. And they express it in those precise terms which the herd humans find very appealing because they know instinctively that they are herd animals. They require a herd in which to subsist. They cannot exist as solitary animals. They become tremendously insecure when they are isolated. They become very fearful. They don't ever try to take on the entire herd and fight it. It's generally only the psychopaths that try to weasel their way through ass kissing and sycophants or whatever it takes to get to become one of the alpha class of the herd so that they can fleece and exploit and ultimately, under the direction of the enemy, completely exterminate the exterminate the entire herd. The entire herd to the enemy is the goyim. They view the goyim literally as herd animals that they exploit, that they fleece, that ultimately they will slaughter and literally consume the flesh and blood of as their food. Now, this is all of the process of the matter. of the Earth that is unfolding in the evolution of the Earth. The brain of the Earth, the hominids of the Earth are evolving and refining into what is going to become the brain of the entire planet, even if it is an artificial manufactured brain of the planet manufactured by hominids. Now, this can take the form of the individuals of the herd acting as neurons in this central nervous system of planet Earth to form the tissues and ultimately the organ of the brain of the Earth. And the psychopaths are part of that herding together of a collective set of tissues into an organ to serve is the brain of the earth. Solitary hominids can become so brilliant that one of them can become the brain of the earth. And I am demonstrative in that because I am the only one out of all of humanity that has figured these things out. And not only these things, but a whole host, a panorama of unique insights that have solved The most difficult problems that human beings have been working on forever. I have solved and I have figured out and it is my insights which have resolved all of these riddles that human beings have been trying. To solve now herd animals are completely incapable of that. Instead, they evolve dogmas that they rely upon and that they sustain and that they fight for and defend. They become angry when their dogmas are challenged. They are not stimulated or inquisitive by anything that threatens their dogmatic herd perspective on the world. They have not evolved fully to have the sensual perceptions and cognitive abilities to grasp things like the future in the way that they can remember the past. But solitary animals, especially predators, depend greatly on being able to forecast the future and have evolved what could be called precognition or premonition. I have myself. We also have evolved to become telepathic among one another to be able to communicate, to be able to perceive things in the ether outside of the material world, which the herd humans view as if empty space as if a vacuum we understand that it is not empty and that the material world is submerged in this sea of ether and we can perceive it and we can perceive things that take place in it and we have the structures in our central nervous system the receptors which can gain sense information about what is occurring in the ether. And we have a completely different perspective on geometry, on physics, on mathematics, on what space, supposed empty space is, what matter is, how matter extends through time. Now, I have figured out that it is quite obvious that we are material, that we are molecules, which self-assemble, self-replicate and self-reproduce. And this is very apparent in our nature. We have divided like charged particles into male and female that are attracted to each other. It is not coincidental that our very nature mirrors the forces of which we are a part as molecular material beings. Matter and energy are conserved in the universe. We strive to be eternal. We strive to conserve the matter of our form. We strive to survive all of these things that we view as intellectual processes. ultimately derived from the fundamental nature of matter, forces, and energy in the universe. And the herd animals are completely oblivious to all of this because herd animals depend upon creating societies which are led by alphas. They have a very different perspective on the world and on matter. They believe, as herd animals do, herd animals often have a sire alpha male who impregnates many females and is the father, literally, of the whole herd and its generations. and herd animals have adopted this herd perspective that there must be a creator God who is the father of all of us and who becomes the literal father or surrogate father, the parents of us throughout our lifetimes. And they depend, they have a need to believe that, that there is this alpha animal that serves as the creator of the herd that created the entire universe. And they can't function or think outside of that mythology because they are herd animals. They depend on a herd leader. They want to look around and see other members of the herd, and they want to know and feel safe that there is an alpha that leads them, be it a male or female or a couple. And that's what makes them so vulnerable and to seek out a king or a queen or ultimately a messiah to be that god put into the material world that they can relate to as the alpha of their herd. This is all very repugnant to us who are the eternal survivors of the solitary hominids. We are a super race that is vastly superior to this inferior subrace of herd animals. And these herd animals have always been a threat to us because it is their instinct to gain up on us and to ostracize us when we deviate from the norms and the standards of the herd. And we are by nature driven to try to preserve the herd because we gain many benefits from the herd. It is both a symbiotic and a parasitic relationship both ways. The herd is very parasitic off of our intelligence and our insights, and we are parasitic off of the communal entertainment of the food, the goods and services, the shelter, the housing, the collective security of the herd. So it is both parasitic and symbiotic, both ways. But we now have technologies, and these evolving technologies are going to replace the herd animals with robotics and artificially intelligent computers. And that is going to put an evolutionary pressure on all hominids, on all of humanity, both the herd humans and solitary hominids, favoring the survival of the solitary hominids because the herd animals are going to become superfluous and because the solitary hominids are more intelligent and will know how to exploit this and will not depend upon the social needs that the herd animals feel. The herd animals are becoming increasingly sterile. Male and female are growing in opposition. to one another, that those animals are breaking down. Herd society is breaking down. They cannot function in this new, more solitary environment, and they are becoming hyper self-critical. They are becoming hyper insecure They are looking to look smaxing. They are trying to find how to make themselves more attractive to the herd, how to better conform to the herd. They are developing all kinds of absurd and very childish behaviors, symbols, and language to insist upon conformity and to enable them to form these packs, these groups, to attack anyone and to ridicule anyone. who doesn't conform to the standards and norms of the herd, and they make that in and of itself a form of social engagement. They socially engage by ridiculing people and by standing behind alphas whom they view as the most attractive, the most conformist, the most gullible, the most stupid, and the leaders of the herd who set the example for the stupidity gullibility, insecurity, asinity, absurdity of the herd itself, of its norms and standards. And this is intensifying and accelerating as the herd animals start to go extinct and they are becoming increasingly sterile, increasingly infertile. They're engaging in a war between The sexes, they are making the sexes repulsive to each other. They are becoming increasingly androgynous in ways in which we don't have opposite charges which attract. We now have opposite charges which have combined in one being which then become repulsive to one another and the whole herd is breaking down and it is going to kill off and exterminate all the herd animals. And that is the role that the enemy in Judaism play in evolution. And now we can go from science to religion. This is part of my religious revelation. What is the purpose of the enemy? Why did hominids evolve into this enemy of humanity that is setting about to exterminate all the goyim, all the herding? It is because this is part of the process of creating the brain, not as a tissue or set of tissues into an organ of cells of a vast herd of humanity, but instead of concentrating it into one organ, in one head, in one brain, such as mine, solitary hominids can supersede the herd animals who have forever from the beginning set about to ostracize us, to mock us, to ridicule us, to exclude us, to silence us, to censor us, to insist upon conformity to the codes and mythologies of the herd and to go so far as to imprison or murder us if we set about with our own independent ideas, our independent thoughts, independent behaviors, independent manners of grooming ourselves, of dressing, whatever it is. If we express our autonomy, our self-sovereignty, our self-governance, even in thought, they strongly resent it and they instinctively And it is very difficult for us to explain things to them because they are innately dogmatic, innately gullible, innately easily manipulated. And once in the cement of their heads, these ideas are frozen into their dogma. They become angry and frustrated whenever it is challenged or whenever you step outside of that dogma. So yesterday I published my declaration. I've been talking about these ideas for years. And I'm going to read over my declaration and lend more and more insights into it and what led to it and my thoughts flowing with it and through it. And if you would like to see all that and learn all learn from all that and discover these things and if potentially most especially if you know instinctively that you are one of these solitary hominids that you are of high intelligence that you do not bear the insecurity to feel a need to reject yourself in favor of the herd you don't want to become um play-doh pushed into a mold shaped by Luxmaxers and psychopaths. You don't want to participate in the decline and extinction of the herd animals. You want to survive them as I do. Please do yourselves a favor, get a paid subscription at cjbbooks.substack.com and you will see the rest. of this presentation. Before I jump over to that, I do want to hit the idea that this is all about survival. The Judeo-Christian framework has been established to mislead the herd of Christians by providing them with their alpha male, Jesus Christ, who is literally their shepherd, their sheep herder. They view themselves literally as sheep set for the slaughter. They literally want to be exterminated and become extinct on the earth because they have been misled and told to believe that there is a heavenly kingdom waiting for them and the only way they can get there is to kill each other off. The Muslims have likewise been provided with this mutually destructive, suicidal, mutually consuming end times eschatology. And part of my revelation, my internal revelation through self-study, self-contemplation, study of what is really going on in the universe by directly observing it with my greater abilities of perception to understand what is actually occurring, I have revealed to myself the purpose that the eschatology of the Abrahamic face actually serves in rendering humanity into this central nervous system of the entire planet to become its literal solitary functioning brain. And part of that process is the killing off of the herd animals who serve as a hindrance to solitary hominids. So the Jews are actually performing a useful service and they will kill themselves off as well in this process of exterminating the goyim. They literally plan on killing at least two thirds of themselves and they want to create 600,000 immortal androgynes out of the DNA of their alpha male. Messiah, son of David. And that's not going to work out for them. And we eternal survivors, the super race, the solitary hominids, have to be planning and preparing as part of our eschatological set of prophecies for the inevitable destruction of the herd animals. How are we going to survive without them? How are we going to survive through their conflicts with one another? How can we avoid helping them to kill us off? How can we segregate from them? What kind of new technologies can we develop with our superior intelligence and our superior ability to perceive things in the universe that they cannot, not innate, stupid mythological sense, but in a real scientific, observable, testable, data-driven, provable sense. How can we develop new technologies, new weapons, new means of defending ourselves and exploit the weaknesses of these herd animals take some pages out of the playbook of the enemy in understanding how these goyim, how these herd animals think and operate, how they can be defeated should they continue to aggressively attack us and try to ostracize us and try to imprison us and try to exterminate us. Again, you have to understand that these are animal behaviors. You have to step outside of all of your indoctrination into the mythologies that were developed by these inferior herd animals, which originate in the structure, the very structure of their consciousness, the very structure of how they have evolved. to think of how they have evolved to perceive the world. That is why these mythologies exist. It's because they were created by these herd animals who evolved to think through a herd perspective. And the herd perspective is there is a God, there is a creator, there is a father and a mother of the herd. They are the leaders, they set the laws. Everyone in the herd has to obey The laws or be ostracized. The herd has to gather together to punish and to kill anyone who disobeys the laws of the herd, anyone who deviates from the norms. and the standards anyone who is viewed by the herd as abnormal and they have to punish themselves and view themselves as sinners and engage in intense self-hatred, insecurity, and self-scrutiny and try to alter their fundamental nature to conform to whatever it is the herds insist that they become and they unite as a collective force to generate peer pressure to force each member to conform to the ways of the herd and we have an enemy who ensures that all of those processes become suicidal and self-destructive. The herd has been led to believe that, for example, that white people are inherently evil. So white people are now committing collective suicide. White people have been committing collective suicide ever since they adopted the enemy's Christianity. They have viewed themselves as intrinsically evil, intrinsically bearing the responsibility for the mythological original mother and father, Adam and Eve, and in need of redemption, for those sins through death. So they are psychotic. They are psychotic herd animals, and they are a threat not only to themselves, but infinitely more importantly, they are a threat to solitary hominids, and they are setting about to kill us. They have always set about to kill us. They have always set about to humiliate us, to attack us, to ostracize us, to portray us as if introverted, as if antisocial, as if insane because we have our own ideas and don't conform to their mythologies and challenge their mythologies and are so giving and so selfless that we try to save them from the psychopaths who mislead them. And we challenge their mythologies and we challenge their leaders objectively, subjectively, scientifically, rationally. factually based deductively, inductively, and they can't handle that. They are genetically programmed to follow the alpha, to conform to the herd, to be insecure whenever they have their own independent thoughts or independent desires. If they want to dress independently, they talk themselves out of it because they know they will be ridiculed by the mob, by the herd. So they are always led into the slaughterhouse, even by their own natures. And this is a threat not only to them, but to us. But their extinction becomes our opportunity to perpetuate ourselves without being under the constant duress and the constant threat of the herd animals trying to force us to conform to their self-destructive behaviors, their self-destructive thoughts, their mythologies their dogmas and their laws so their extinction becomes our opportunity to become truly independent to become truly solitary hominids and to replace all the things that they offered us with robots with artificial intelligence with artificial general intelligence with new ecosystems that we can help to engineer with new food chains to ensure our preservation the enemy and the herd animals are a threat to the entire ecosystems of the earth to all the food chains so what has happened evolution has produced the enemy to exterminate the herd animals and they will also try to exterminate the solitary hominids but we can take advantage of the fact that they are going to eliminate the herd animals to create to um survived that apocalypse which is taking place. Right now, people don't realize it, but everyone's being killed off. Right now, genetically modified. Right now, rendered sterile. Right now, set up for nuclear war. Right now, it's going down. It is happening. And they will succeed and are succeeding in killing off the herd animals. Now we need to be smarter. We are the solitary animals. We are observing from a distance remotely what is taking place. We are rationally and objectively analyzing what is occurring in the material world and how we can then shape that matter, gain control over those forces, those processes, those molecular structures to perpetuate and eugenically improve our own being as self-assembling, self-replicating molecular structures. We can, as the matter of the earth, gain control over the matter of the earth and seize the opportunity that the enemy is creating to survive the apocalypse and then to benefit from it because we are going to inherit a world all our own. and we have to utilize our intelligence to plan for it and to survive it and then to build our paradise on the other side of it and speaking of the other side i am now going to transfer over to my

paid subscribers if you find this intriguing I strongly urge you to get a paid subscription at cjbbooks.substack.com not only to see the rest of this but all of my presentations and visit my website cjbbooks.com and visit my website um eternalsurvivors.com eternalsurvivors.com no spaces no hyphens no underscores eternalsurvivors.com So thank you so much for watching to this point. I am now going to go over to my paid subscribers and discuss with them my declaration of my new religion that I have revealed to myself. and I'm going to talk to them about this process of self-contemplation and how important it is for solitary hominids because we have evolved through all kinds of organisms for billions of years to become what we are. What we are is demonstrably successful in surviving. So, if we come to understand ourselves, we come to understand how our ancestors survived. hundreds of thousands of years of hell in our present form, and how we can survive the hell that is now taking place on earth to come out on the other side of it and construct our own paradise. So, I put out my declaration. I made a PDF of it, which is available on archive I posted it on X, and I put it on my website, eternalsurvivors.com slash about, and I'm probably going to make a partial transcript of what I'm saying today and post transcripts on this website when I do talk specifically about my new religion, Eternal Survivor, so look forward to that. Please get involved with my website. I've set up on related social media, created a YouTube channel, Bitchute Odyssey, Facebook, Discord, Telegram, etc. I don't know how deeply I'm going to get involved in all that. It depends on how many people get involved, if it's worthwhile to devote resources and time to that or not. Any contributions you can give me at this time will be especially helpful to kick this off and launch it. I'm creating a new form of community of independent people. It has to be done in very different ways from the ways in which herd animals engage with each other. We have to maintain encryption. We have to maintain secrecy, obviously the enemy. Jacob who dressed up as Esau as the first crypto Jew is going to try to infiltrate all this gain as much information as they can and use it against all of us they're going to be crap heads who try to co-opt all this for me and mimic me copy me etc as has been going on for 30 years going on all my life my own even my childhood friends used to do it to me it's part of the herd is to mimic to copy they lack their own creative intelligence they include a certain percentage of psychopaths who can only succeed by mimicking normal people because they have no personality of their own They have no conscience. They have no empathy, no sympathy, no moral code. They don't understand what is right and wrong. And in order to hide that fact, they become mimics and parrots and apes who copy other people so that they can appear normal and charming to other people. So they try to copy the best that they can find, which leads them to try to rip off my work perpetually. So I published this declaration which hits on many of the points that I was just talking about. It is very important to understand that planets are seeds composed of matter and often don't have substantial energy sources of their own. So they have to land on fertile soil in order to sprout. And the sprouting process is an embryonic process that involves the creation of DNA or other forms like it. that then evolve into the cellular structures that become the tissues, that become the organs, that become the systems, that become the massive collective organism of the earth, which is evolving into its own life form. And I can even envision myself becoming the brain of this life form. This is part of the self-exploration contemplation that leads me to my insights. I evolved from ancestors who have gone through hell for thousands of years, billions of years. This evolved into a strong fit organism. I need to better understand that organism. I need to know why it exists. I need to know how it functions, how it is integrated into everything else in the structure of the universe. And I have figured out why it is that the Jews exist, why it is that the Jews hate the herd animal Goyim, how it is that the Jews were able to manipulate and take advantage of the fact that the Goyim are herd humans by providing them with the alpha male who is a Judas goat who leads the herd into the slaughterhouse the shepherd of the sheep of the goyim is jesus christ the king of the jews who was brutally sacrificed for the good of the jewish people just as the goyim the herd animals are going to be slaughtered sacrificed and consumed by the jews and i think i put it quite well on twitter today and as always I was immediately censored immediately as in within a hot minute I put this up I put it up together with a picture and very shortly after my account was locked and in order to unlock it I had to I was obligated to delete the post it immediately first couple seconds it started going viral because I hid it so well It resonated with people immediately and they jumped on it and I got an email saying that it had been reported. I don't know whether that's true or not, whether it was AI that tagged it, but they took it down immediately and they locked my account. And the only way I could reopen it was to delete this post, be an obedient little stupid herd animal and oblige it. So I got around the system with my intelligence as a solitary hominid. And I put up a screenshot of their attack on my human dignity, their violation of my fundamental human rights to freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, and freedom of expression. And let me show you what it is that they were so afraid of that they had to ban immediately. Jews want Christians to believe the God of Israel is going to save them and to trust the plan. The God of Israel doesn't exist. No one's going to save them. And the Judeo-Christian plan is to exterminate Christians. Dumb fuckers won't survive. Don't die with them. And then together with that, I posted this horrific image of the great alpha male of the Christians, a pathetic loser who was murdered, who was crucified, who wore a crown of thorns to symbolize the slavery, the sacrifice, the death, the extinction of the goy herd animals. And you can see the herd animals getting on their knees before their pathetic alpha male and worshiping this Judas goat who leads them into the slaughterhouse so that they can all bear their own cross and sacrifice themselves and lose their lives for the benefit of their enemy, the Jew. Jews are also herd animals. They are very strongly conscious that they are members of a tribe. They view themselves tribally. They create the myth that they share a common blood. They have their common laws. These are all herd animal behaviors. The herd animals know the law. The law is laid down by the alpha male, the alpha female, the alpha couple. They know if they violate that law, they will be ostracized. They will be excommunicated. If they tell, tattle on the tribe, they will be a denmoser and they will be killed. So they are deeply obedient to their inner nature as herd animals, to conform to one another, to view themselves as a herd, as a herd governed by alphas, governed by gods, governed by messiahs, and to obey all these rules and to not follow any alphas, to not follow any pagan gods. but to be their own exclusive herd and then to view that herd itself as a collective alpha. Human beings have evolved this way because the planet, the earth, is trying to evolve a brain. This is a competition among hominids to evolve into the brain Planet Earth, and I want to win that competition. I want it to be my consciousness, my understanding, my evolved perspective on reality that becomes the brain of the planet. The Jews want it to be them. The Goyim are such herd animals that they had to be handed their mythology and to pursue it according to the rules laid down by their enemy the jews which deliberately lead them into the slaughterhouse because they follow the alpha pie piper the alpha judas goat jesus christ who is going to set about to exterminate them so their alpha mythology is a trap that leads to their extinction, as I've been saying for 30 years. And now I'm putting it in terms of a religious perspective. And my religious perspective is that we are the living matter of the earth. We are self-organizing, self-assembling, self-replicating molecular structures, evolving into the cells, the tissues, the organs the systems of the massive collective organism of the earth and there are cancers that evolve among us like the enemy and there are parasites and there are diseases but there are also healthy systems and ecosystems and food chains and it's vitally important food chains are vitally important because they are the building blocks of life And it is essential that we establish healthy food chains so that the earth can progress in its growth into an organism and not die. If the food chains are corrupted, life will cease. Life will mutate into self-destructive forms. that end, the extension of the molecular structures of life will reach a limit and will end. It will not be continuous. We want to ensure that life becomes a continuous extension of the molecular forms of life, converting the matter of the earth into living as part of a greater living organism and into structures which sponsor those living organisms that are part and parcel and parts of the greater whole of the living planet, Earth. The Jews came along in this process with a deep-seated hatred of herd animals and an intrinsic innate understanding that because they are herd animals, they can be deceived and misled and tricked. They instinctively knew that the herd animals of the Goyim had evolved to be gullible, to be obedient, to follow laws, to act as groups what's now called mass formation psychosis to be easily misled by leaders, especially in mobs, which is why comedians are such effective propagandists, because they put people in a state of hypnosis where they think and act collectively. They look at each other and see, hey, should we laugh at this joke? And when they hear other people laughing, they start to laugh together, just like in a crowd when someone hears someone cough. You'll hear a lot of other people start coughing because they are heard Animals, they instinctively obey, they are gullible, they are easily manipulated. They evolve to become increasingly stupid because all the smart ones, all the independent thinkers get attacked by the herd, get ostracized by the herd, get imprisoned by the herd, get murdered by the herd and its psychopathic leaders. and the psychopaths also evolve together. They are also part of the herd animals, but they pop up as a certain percentage of the herd animals. A herd of psychopaths wouldn't succeed, but a herd without leaders also wouldn't succeed. So they evolve together and the psychopaths have no morals. So they have the ability to mislead the herd and exploit the herd, fleece the herd, slaughter the herd. benefit from the herd, dupe the herd, lie to the herd. And they have no sympathy for the herd. They have no empathy for the herd. They have no moral compass. They have no conscience. They don't feel any shame or guilt as they lie. So they can do it with a straight face. They can smile at you as they are plotting to murder you, literally. And so there is also this group of psychopaths and the Jews learned that they could buy, they could bribe, they could recruit these psychopaths to lead the herd in whatever direction they wanted. They could promise to build a palace for the alpha psychopath. They could run the alpha psychopath into debts. They could get dirt on Compromat, on the lead psychopath, the alpha, the messiah, the god of the people, and they could gain control over the alpha. They could pretend to be a member of these other nations, of these other races, of these other tribes, and influence And they always understood that the goyim are these cattle, these animals, these herd animals that think from a herd perspective. So they gave them the ultimate subversive herd religion, Christianity with the ultimate alpha male that is a judas goat that is a pied piper that leads the herd off the cliff into the slaughterhouse jesus christ their shepherd shepherd is just another herd boss cows even when they're among themselves put up an alpha a messiah and in human beings that alpha is a psychopath and jesus christ misleads people is a psychopath is the alpha that leads them into their own destruction and teaches them to clamor for their own destruction tells them that it is necessary and good and beneficial to them that they be completely wiped out because that is their salvation that the earth that they live on is It's evil. It's a matter. They're trapped in a body, a corpse of flesh, and they have to escape it because they're a spark of light. And the light has to leave the vessel of the prison of flesh, of the corpse of flesh and the prison of matter of the earth. So they have to hand the earth over to the Jews. And the Jews found it very easy to dupe the gullible goyim, the herd animals, the cattle, the sheep, and they refer to them in Christianity as the sheep, as the flock, as the fish that is netted by the fishermen, hooked in the jaw by the fishermen, by the bullshit artists.

The bullshit artists jesus christ and the bullshit artists of the apostles and they even mock all of this in the gospel of judas and the apocalypse of abraham but this could serve ultimately a eugenic beneficial purpose and i believe that this is why the jews exist this is why the evolution of the matter of the earth produced this cancer of the jews to kill off the herd animals. It is a cancer. It is a form, a mutant form of the herd animals. Jews are also herd animals, and they mutated into this cancer of Jewry with its mythologies of Judaism, which originate from its herd perspective, its innate herd nature to seek out an alpha, to be obedient to a set of laws, and standards to be slaves perpetually to be perpetually persecuted to drive the herd into itself imploding constantly imploding the herd in on itself but it is a cancerous mutant form of the herd human and the purpose that it's going to serve is as a cancer it's going to kill off all herd humans it is going to completely wipe them out from history. And then the earth has the potential to evolve under the leadership of solitary hominids with our superior morality, with our superior, much more advanced, highly evolved perspective on reality, with our greater perceptors in our brains with our greater cognitive abilities to structure these sensual perceptions into thoughts, images, premonitions, memories. We are aware of a whole The whole world that the herd animals are blind to. They can't see it. They can't even imagine that it exists. It never occurred to them that it exists. That people like us exist that can see all these things that they are blind to. Even in their mythologies and their stories, they don't get it right. They view it as magical. They get it as being bestowed by their gods. They don't understand that it is simply an evolutionary step or series of steps, a ladder beyond what their ancestors evolved to. That our ancestors evolved out of the need to be hunters to successfully forecast The future to be able to think independently as solitary animals venturing out to capture our own independent territories to roam those territories to ensure that no invaders interlope into our territories. We had to be smarter. We had to be better. We had to be able to predict the future. We had to be able to correlate the past, the present, and the future together. Time to us had to be three-dimensional, unlike to the herd animals, where time is one-dimensional. It is a forever present. For us, it is three-dimensional. In each moment of time, we perceive both the past, the present, and the future together. We can see it all together. We can see the broader structure of the universe in ways that these under-evolved animals cannot, and they are a threat to us. The Jews implanted in them the mythology that the herd has to pursue the extinction of all humanity, that the herd only exists to commit collective suicide so that it can gain salvation for the original father and mother of the herd, the sins of Adam and Eve. They are in need of redemption and atonement and They are the ransom, their sacrifice is the ransom that is paid to Satan for the sins of Adam and Eve and that they can only gain this heavenly kingdom by escaping this prison of the earth through their deaths. So they are a threat to us. They are setting about to kill themselves off and view us as part of that humanity that they are part of, as part of the herd that has to be culled, that has to be slaughtered, that has to be wiped out, and they're going to try to kill us all. And even much prior to Christianity, these herd animals have always really been our enemies. Their children mock our children. Their children group together to attack our children because our children are insightful. Our children are brilliant. Our children are loving. Our children are upright and moral. Our children are heroic. And all of those attributes that we bear genetically are loathed and resented and hated by the herd animals because we are not herd animals. We have ourselves and we engage in self contemplation. We are in search of ourselves throughout our whole lives. We want to better understand ourselves and let ourselves manifest from the inside to the outside. We don't want to hide ourselves. We want to be ourselves and we are in a constant process of becoming ourselves. And that is something again that the herd animals are blind to. They don't have any of those gifts. They don't have their own insights. They don't have the ability to think and fight independently for their own ideas because they have no ideas of their own. They instead are compelled to form their opinions, to obtain their opinions from other members of the herd. And the lead members of the herd are psychopaths who are exploiting them, deliberately lying to them, perpetuating dogmas, insisting that the dogmas never be challenged or questioned. And the herd becomes an army enforcing that conformity and has evolved to have an insistence on it. both being conforming themselves and demanding the conformity of everyone else. And that is highly destructive. But because they are destroying themselves, that becomes an opportunity for us. It is time for us to turn the tables on the herd and to ostracize the herd, to stop supplementing and saving the herd with our intelligence, with our insights. We are feeding the enemy so that it can kill us. And that's got to stop. We have got to segregate. We've got to insist that our rights to defend ourselves, to form militias, to form private paramilitaries of our own so that we can secure our rights against the herd, the tyranny of the herd, by changing the law so that it becomes legal for us. to do that. And once the laws are changed, we can then pursue it. But we have to engage in getting those laws changed. We need a presidential executive order recognizing the inherent right of American citizens to form militias on the legal authority of the Second Amendment and to form private paramilitary organizations and to bear the power as citizens of the nation to enforce the sovereignty of the nation, to capture and deport and expel illegal invaders, to have all the powers and authorities of the government. And should the government fail, we can enforce the sovereignty of the nations ourselves, but we need the legal basis to be able to do that without the state itself attacking us. And we should be pursuing a constitutional amendment to recognize the fundamental right of American citizens to form malicious private, malicious private paramilitaries. And it will be very, it's always very difficult to get a constitutional amendment passed, but it will get it in the consciousness of people that this is a right and that this is necessary and we are pursuing that right and that can become part of political platform. There are laws on the books which favor, which privilege the political parties and place hurdles before anyone who runs as an independent political candidate. We need to get those laws off the books. We need to change campaign financing. Candidates will have to get a certain number of signatures on a petition to run and then funds will be provided by the state and spending will be restricted to those funds so that everyone exists on a level playing field. We need the laws to recognize the right of the citizens to depose a treasonous government, a government that has been captured by hostile, alien, foreign powers and is working against the Constitution that is violating the Constitution, that is attacking the citizenry, that is taking away our rights the way that X has taken away my right of free speech, the way that X algorithmically de-boosts me. but uh let's let's get to uh let's get back to my uh declaration and my voice is gonna run out I won't be able to read very much of it for you and I do want to do that for you for especially for my paid subscribers I do appreciate you good folks very much I know that uh I go through a lot of frustrations with people stealing from me etc etc and I expect people to stand up for me and I get frustrated with you as well and I express that I hope you understand that but I hope you also understand that I do very much appreciate the tremendous support and assistance that all of you give to me and I thank you from my heart I thank you So this is my declaration. I finished it up on the 1st and I published it on the 6th. I had to set up the website and all the social media channels and stuff and all that was new to me and took me some time to get through it all. A New Religion for a New Race by Christopher Jon Bjerknes, myself. You can find this at the about page for eternalsurvivors.com. A phoenix race of eternal survivors will rise from the ashes of the apocalypse to rule the cleansed world." So, my eschatology recognizes the inevitability of the success of the eschatology of the enemy. The enemy has emerged in an evolutionary process to become a cancer of the herd animals that exterminates the herd animals and makes them extinct. It is incumbent upon us to recognize, if not the inevitability of that, the high probability, the great likelihood that that is going to occur. If we are to survive, we have to plan for it and we have to prepare for it and we have to do it now. There will be a brief window where we will be able to segregate and capture the new advanced technologies that humanity is perfecting at the moment when they reach that level where we can utilize them to create entirely new societies, entirely new weapon systems, entirely new espionage systems. Systems which are invisible to everyone else because they exist outside the realm of human perception. I and some other solitary hominids can see into some of these realms to a very limited degree. We can create machines that can exist within these other realms, the realms of the ether. outside the material world in scales and mechanisms of the material world which humans are not aware of. We can function in those arenas with a cloak of invisibility, a ring of invisibility that humans will not be aware of, and we can engage in actions to which they will be completely blind and there's going to be a limited opportunity where we can do that and if we get there first and we do that first we will survive when all of them perish and we will inherit an earth that has been cleansed of the herd animals by this cancerous herd animal and we got to do it it's the only way to survive and um Even if you believe that these things are not inevitable and are not likely to occur, I hope that you can understand the benefits that can be garnered from pursuing this plan. Eternal Survivors awakens the inner voice of a dormant, more highly evolved super race destined to survive the coming self-extinction of all other hominids. We will rise from the ashes after they mutually destroy each other to inherit a new world of our design. That is their eschatology. Their eschatology is to mutually destroy one another and they are going to succeed. So we have to survive that and we have to benefit from that. We have to view it as an opportunity, an opportunity that is going to cleanse in the evolution of the earth, cleanse the earth of the herd animals so that we can supplant them and become the neurological structure of the organism of the earth, become the intellect, the consciousness, the highest form of consciousness of the earth. The herds, shepherds, and lone wolves, there are two broad classes of humanity which from the beginning have both benefited from and harmed each other. We have evolved together and played different and complementary symbiotic and parasitic roles in society and the extended human family. Some hominids tend toward solitude and independent thought and action, while others gather in herds and are led by psychopaths who mislead and exploit the susceptible and faithful gregarious masses. They govern the herd humans. The herd humans inherit and exhibit the evolutionary traits of gullibility, insecurity, conformity, sociability, Faith and obedience and are led by a fairly consistent percentage of psychopaths who always appear among them and attempt to take charge of the herd through brutality and charm as they feed off of it. Herd humans resemble herd sheep because similar social conditions govern the evolution of both species. Human herds include a subset of psychopathic shepherds. It's an English word that derives from the contraction of sheep herders who dominate them just as sheep and other herd animals are led by the tyrants they obediently follow. And that becomes the Messiah is the boss animal and God is the boss animal and the mother and father of the herd animals. The psychopaths, who are also herd animals but lack the normal human attributes of empathy, compassion and conscience, are frequently slightly more intelligent than the rest of the herd. Herd humans are no different from other herd animals in this regard. You will observe that herd humans excitedly gather together to eat and party together and to watch sporting events like football and boxing matches, which are the very same herd behaviors exhibited by many herd animals which graze together, assemble to watch fights and live and sleep together. And the herd animals cheer for one faction or another. You'll see that in chimpanzees, very advanced herd animals. so that they fight for the alpha status and it becomes a spectator sport. That is what is manifesting itself in the human behavior of sporting matches, boxing matches, football matches. We are watching a fight just as all the cows and bulls gather to watch a fight, just as the lions and lionesses gather to watch the alpha males battle it out. They are animals. They are herd animals. That's why Their religion bears this herd perspective, seeking out the Alpha of the Messiah, the Alpha of God, who is a tyrant, who imposes laws, who ostracizes and kills anyone who doesn't believe. Jesus is the alpha who damns you to hell, who murders you if you don't have faith in him. That is herd mentality. That is the herd perspective. That is the alpha male saying that you are not only ostracized if you don't obey me and believe that I am the leader of Not only that, I'm going to fucking kill you. And that's what Jesus does. Jesus kills everyone who doesn't accept Jesus as the alpha. And Christians become outraged. They become psychotic. They become vehemently violent. Should you question Jesus? And they will set about to murder you if you don't accept Jesus as your alpha male. And that's what's going on. That's why this religion appeals to herd animals. They will defend the Alpha to the death. They will kill anyone who doesn't accept the Alpha. The Alpha will come and kill you if you don't submit and obey the Alpha. And Jesus is the Alpha of the herd animals. He will come and fucking kill you. And not only fucking kill you, but Damn you to hell for eternity so that your balls burn in a lake of fire forever just because you wouldn't accept that motherfucker as your alpha male and leader of the herd. If you don't want to be a part of the herd, if you don't want to accept Jesus as the alpha boss of the herd, you're fucked. He's going to kill you and he's going to throw you in a lake of fire for all of fucking eternity. And that makes sense to these morons, these beasts of burden, because they are heard Animals, that is how herd animals view the world. Herd animals instinctively believe that the alpha has the right to make the laws and to insist that everyone acknowledge the authority and leadership of the alpha or the alpha and the whole herd has not only the right but the duty fucking kill you. And that's what they'll do. And that's what Jesus in the prophecies is going to do. Everybody who has not submitted to the authority of the leadership and not become a member of the herd of Christians gets killed by the fucking alpha boss of that herd. Cows do the same thing. Horses do the same thing. All herd animals do that. You submit to the alpha or the alpha and the whole herd will set about to kill you. And that's what Christianity is. It's the herd perspective, the innate mental perspective. way that the brain of herd animals constructs its images and perceptions of reality to create this world in which there is an alpha that has created the world, that governs the world, that is the authority, that is the leader and all the other alpha, all the other herd animals have to conform to that and have to bear a constant fear and sense of insecurity. that if they step out of line if they do not conform if they do not believe if they do not have faith in the leader even when the leader says absurd false obviously false things that it is incumbent it is incumbent upon that leader upon Jesus Christ upon the whole herd of Christians to fucking kill you and cast you into a lake of fire and that lake of fire becomes the basis the justification for the fear that forces people to obey this evil the evil alpha psychopath. Doesn't Jesus, the loving God, have any compassion for people that he can fucking throw people into a lake of fire and toast their balls for all of eternity? It's fucking ridiculous. And we solitary hominids cannot and will not think that way. We reject all of that mythology. And instead, I uniquely among all of humanity throughout the entire course of our evolution and the first to figure out what the fuck is really going on and why all this exists and the purpose that it serves. And I'm revealing it to you today. So get out your thank you forms and send them in. Humans are no different from other herd animals. In this regard, you will observe that herd humans excitedly gather together to eat and party together and to watch sporting events like football and boxing matches, which are the very same herd behaviors exhibited by many herd animals, which graze together, assemble to watch fights, and live and sleep together. It is not surprising that like conditions produce like traits in all animals, including hominids. Solitary animals are careful to eat alone, fight alone, or depart from conflicts and only act as spectators to stalk prey or patrol their territories, which they carefully guard and defend, which is what I want to do with militias and private paramilitary organizations once we make it legal. These clustered inherited traits carry over to solitary hominids who resemble other solitary animals like tigers, snow leopards, and great white sharks. Hominids have evolved into these two distinct types with a proclivity towards solitary or herd behaviors. Again, it's a tendency. It's not absolute. We both bear aspects of both forms of humanity, but some strongly and by degree strongly favor one side or the other. and have the nature of one side or the other. Because like conditions produce like results and evolution has produced herd animals and solitary hominids with like attributes to other such classes of animals. These are not absolute distinctions, but are more tendencies toward being solitary or herdish in the two distinct and different strengths of humanity. Solitary hominids, like many predators, tend to be far more intelligent, heroic, moral, skeptical, doubting, rational, cautious, contemplative, And by definition independent than all species and races of herd animals. The tiresome, shallow, babbling, stumbling herd bores them and strains their patience. God, do I know that. But they nevertheless are mostly tolerant and compassionate to the herd animals among whom they reside out of necessity, especially the children, the innocent children. They are not at all psychopathic and instead tend to be heroic and self-sacrificing. However, they also tend to conserve their energy for themselves by not expending it with the group. Interbreeding with the herd animals weakens their bloodline and they instinctively long to breed with superior human specimens like themselves and from a very early age go in search of an ideal mate with a clear vision of who he or she will be. Solitary hominids seek out highly intelligent, attractive, healthy, and rigidly moral and faithful mates, which helps to preserve their bloodline from interbreeding with the inferior herd animals, who tend to be immoral, unfaithful, stupid, may or may not be attractive, may or may not be healthy, but are certainly not good mates for solitary hominids. Heard animals fear and often shun solitary hominids and are uncomfortable and insecure in their presence, driving many solitary hominids to become introverted and conceal their insights and hide their intelligence in order to avoid the distractions and crude abuse of the stupid and unimaginative herd. They grow reluctant to warn the herd of dangers and missteps and instead seek to insulate themselves from the brutish, dull, humorless, reckless, and uninsightful masses of herd animals. I have a very good sense of humor. Many people told me I have the best sense of humor of anyone they met in their lives, but they have to be intelligent enough to understand it, which most people aren't. It flies right over their heads. Nevertheless, the solitary hominids have always benefited from the entertainment, safety, sanctuary numbers, and goods and services which the herd animals afford them. They can be the life of the party if they so choose, but generally do not much enjoy mingling with the herd other than as remote observers searching for other solitary hominids whom they might encounter and searching for suitable mates. Solitary hominids still bear some measure of herd instinct And only very few of them wish to be entirely isolated, but nearly all prefer the company of the super race of which they are a part to the chattering, under-evolved herd animals and enjoy long periods of self-contemplation and study away from the relatively worthless opinions of the intellectually and morally inferior members of the sub-race of herd animals. one of the reasons why you'll see I have no followers. I mean, I have many followers, but I don't follow anyone anywhere. And I also don't allow comments on my social media. I'm a solitary hominid. I think independently. I don't give a flying fuck what anybody else thinks of my thoughts. There are some people who have interesting thoughts and I would benefit if I were to allow them to comment. But the vast majority are intelligence agency assets or complete fucking morons.

And it's just not worth my time to go through it. And I don't want people to be misled by those piles of shit. They are not in search of the approval of the herd and do not care what others think of them or their ideas merely for the sake of fitting in, though they are keen to learn things of value which are logical and proven. They are not comfortable with praise because they know praise enslaves them. For if they value the opinion of the mob when it honors them, they must also accept and endure its condemnation and scorn when it shuns them. I'm not insecure, I'm not self-conscious, and I don't give a flying fuck when anybody I don't let them affect my self-image at all. Because if I were to allow their praise to govern my self-image, I would have to submit to their condemnation and condemn myself when they condemn me. And I don't do that by nature. I don't do that. I never have. All of which exposure to the collective and biased opinions of the herd only serve as peer pressure to control and enforce compliance with the valueless and mean standards of the herd, which solitary hominids reject and disregard. Solitary hominids of the super race are often pioneers who venture out into new territories seeking greater freedom and independence from the herd animals. They roam, patrol, and mark their territories and are weary of intruders and binding ties to the herd. People are looking. People want to get out of the United States, get out of Europe. They got no fucking place to go. But once the cancer of the enemy exterminates, renders extinct all the herd animals, the whole earth is going to be an open territory once again. And we can be pioneers venturing out individually to create our own races, our own clans, our own nations, because the territory is going to be there once again. I mean, people want to fucking flee the earth and go to the goddamn moon or to Mars. That's how bad it is. But it's going to get much worse, and then it's going to get much better. And if we can survive and come out on the other side of this, it's going to be a paradise that we can create for ourselves. And that's my religious eschatology. The Abrahamic mythology of the Messiah stems from the Egyptian pharaoh, and it fosters and promotes the herd mentality of the herd animals and is a product of it. The Messiah of the Abrahamic faith represents the ultimate shepherd, sheepherder of the ultimate submissive sheep, the faithful. Again, they rely on faith. They don't rely on data, observation, logic, testing, experiment. They rely on faith. They are easily manipulated, gullible, animals who cannot think independently and rationally and that puts a breeding pressure on them to make them stupider in every generation who fleeces and consumes the herd after grooming it for slaughter the messiah is the quintessential psychopathic leader of the other herd animals who obey the messiah's orders he's the boss cow and who cannot function or think independently of some leader. If you don't follow him, if you don't obey him, if you don't have faith in him, he kills you and casts you into the lake of fire for eternity. Some group, just as the cow will kick you out of the herd, some group and some perceived herd mentality to provide them with their sense of identity, opinions, attitudes and course of action. That's why I'm rude to people because they are looking for me to do that for them. And it goes against my nature because I'm not a herd animal. I'm not a psychopath. I don't want to fill their heads with my dogma. I want to persuade intelligent people that what I'm saying is right. And if they can object to it on a rational and factual basis, I want to progress in that way. The messianic myth even incorporates the fiction that the Messiah is a demigod and therefore of another species than the rest of the herd, but nevertheless a part of the herd as its supreme leader. The Messiah, a supposed god existing in material form, owns all the matter of the earth, including all hominids. I find more and more passages in the Bible that say that God created the earth, therefore God has the right to apportion what nations get to live where, which is why the Jews claim Israel. Eternal survivors firmly and even though they, by their own admission, were not the indigenous people there. Eternal survivors firmly and completely rejects these Abrahamic and Egyptian herd mythologies and recognizes what is actually taking place. In reality, in the role hominids play in that messianic religions are cults to govern herd animals. which attract herd animals who are effectively sheep in search of shepherds to lead them into the slaughterhouse. Christianity is a perfect example of this. Jesus shepherds his herd of the blind and faithful into the fictional heavenly kingdom of death and extinction of the flock on the absurd premise that human life and the earth are supposedly inherently evil and a prison in the corpse of flesh and matter. Christians worship their own death and extermination and pursue the complete destruction of the world. The religion was fabricated by the enemy of humanity for this very purpose, but Judaism and Islam likewise believe in these same elements of the Messiah who destroys the world and kills off most. If not all of humanity in both Judaism and Islam are the essence of the herd human mentality, the herd human perspective on reality, which lures the sheep into following the leader in the slaughterhouse of extinction. We must survive the herds who will fulfill their mission to mutually exterminate each other at the direction of their messiah shepherds the psychopaths who exploit and mislead them the messiah is the leader of the herd and solitary hominids reject and distrust the herds and their leaders solitary hominids are fully evolutionarily equipped to think and act on their own and fight for themselves by themselves solitary hominids find messianic cults obscenely and nauseatingly repulsive. Eternal Survivors establishes a new form of religion and structure to society which serves the new race of solitary hominids. We demand individual independence from the group which community only exists to serve the individual interests of solitary hominids and secure their autonomy, self-sovereignty, self-governance, breeding options, territories, and eternal survival. The next progression of hominid evolution is away from majority herd animals to a highly evolved new super race of solitary hominids who bear many of the traits of solitary predators like tigers, snow leopards, and great white sharks. Computers, AI, and robotics create a new environment which is better suited to solitary hominids than herd humans and which empowers their individuality and inherent independence because it frees us from any need for the herd of animals but deprives them of their raison d'être. which is to serve their messianic leader and follow the herd. That is very important to understand. Evolution is beginning to favor us because the environment is changing. In solitary, hominids are more fit to survive in this new, evolving, emerging environment of high technology than the herd. And that's going to be part of the enemy's process of exterminating the herd, which and their extinction will serve as our opportunity to inherit a world without them. Since solitary hominids lack the tremendous mass force of herd animals, it is essential that we develop new forms of self-defense. We must reform the laws, including a constitutional amendment preceded by a presidential executive order based on the lawful authority of the Second Amendment. to recognize our natural rights to form private militias and private paramilitary organizations, which are entirely free to train and parade as they deem fit without any state interference, monitoring, condemnation, subterfuge or espionage. And there are currently laws on the books in many states prohibiting training militias and parading militias with firearms. We need to get those laws off the books. We need to make it unconstitutional. We need court rulings against it. A presidential executive order would go a long way to freeing us up. A constitutional amendment would make it absolute. The right to form and participate in private militias must be formally recognized as a fundamental constitutional right, and any governmental efforts to infringe on those rights must be severely prosecuted and punished as civil rights violations of the worst sort. We need to make it illegal for politicians to condemn militias to speak out against private paramilitary organizations because doing so creates a chilling effect to silence those militias and turns population against them, which is a civil rights violation of all rights to form militias and paramilitary organizations. Organizations, we need to make it illegal for them to send informants into militias to try to generate subterfuge in them, to monitor them, to engage in espionage. Upon them, all of those have to be recognized as fundamental civil rights violations. And anyone engaging in that behavior, any state official, any agent of the state engaging in that behavior needs to be prosecuted and put in jail, put in prison, federal prison. The American Constitution should be amended to recognize the foundational basis of the nation by expressly stating that it is the right of every citizen individually and in self-assembling groups. Again, we are self-assembling molecular structures and we become bigger when we form groups. to depose the government should and when it acts against the Constitution or oppresses citizens and or has been subverted, co-opted, corrupted, blackmailed, extorted, become treasonous and or been infiltrated or fallen under the influence and control of hostile alien and or foreign powers. And currently the law doesn't recognize that. And we need to change the law and get court rulings that do recognize that. So it becomes legal, recognized legal. Citizens shall bear all the same powers of policing as the state and suffer no restrictions, which are not likewise imposed upon the state, including but not limited to the right to capture and deport illegal aliens and arrest and process for prosecution those who knowingly and intentionally employ, harbor, aid, and abet illegal invaders as enemy traitors to the nations. Solitary hominids innately bear the greatest right and duty to protect themselves from the herd animals who are by nature cowardly and mindless bullies especially among children especially when herded together in groups beyond and that's what that looks maxing shit is all about beyond malicious solitary hominids must develop the next generation of truly stealth weaponry based on new understandings of physics and geometry I've talked about this a lot Physics and geometry which derive from the more highly evolved perceptions and conceptions of solitary hominids and which will be enhanced by AI and AGI to the point where they entirely escape human detection should it ever become necessary to employ these unobservable weapons In justified self-defense, the herd animals will stupidly believe these weapons are supernatural in origin and nature and represent divine retribution against them for their perceived sins, which derive from their engineered self-hatred. They will be unable to detect or decipher the real source from whence the effects of these stealthy weapons come, such that they will be unaware of the fact that solitary hominids are capable of and are defending themselves from the attacks of the enemy and its aggressive horde. So as the enemy falls, it's not going to be aware of the source of that. It's going to view it as plagues from heaven and think that the gods are attacking it because it is inherently sinful. And the enemy has indoctrinated and set up the herd animals to fall into that trap. Solitary hominids should oppose political parties and seek the repeal of and declared unconstitutionality of all laws favoring party candidates over independent candidates for election of political office, and there are Supreme Court rulings saying that it's beneficial to society to have a two-party duopoly, and we have to get rid of all that. We are solitary hominids. We want independent candidates. We don't want political Parties of herd animals with groupthink led by their tyrannical messiahs. They should become, sponsor, and vote for independence in opposition to the herd behavior and manipulation of party politics. The Constitution should be amended to expressly ban political parties and limit campaign contributions and spending to state funds aborted to legitimate candidates after petition requirements have been met. Herd animals by nature hate themselves, are self-conscious and terribly insecure and seek out group approval by conforming to group standards. That's what looks maxing is all about. Getting people to hate themselves and change themselves to conform to a perceived group image to make them insecure and self-conscious so that the herd can manipulate them. And the herd is led by the psychopaths who are setting about to slaughter the herd. They are the ultimate conformists even when they pretend. Otherwise, as in the case of communists and their close cousins, libertarians who are crypto-communists, they pretend to be the smartest, they have their own jargon, all of which herds them into the herd mentality where they are complete conformists and they obey the mandates of the psychopaths who lead the herd of libertarians who are primarily Jews like Ayn Rand and Murray. Rothberg, you'll see that the rebels and motorcycle gangs put on their conformist uniforms. The dissident neo-Nazis wear their conformist uniforms. They are the ultimate fucking herd animals, which is one of the many reasons why they are so repugnant and so repulsive to me. They instinctively fear, resent, and seek to harm solitary hominids who are generally far more intelligent and insightful than both the psychopaths and their sheep who populate the full spectrum of the herd. Psychopaths are also part of the herd, even though they are of a different genetic strain. And they are not solitary hominids by any means. They are dumber and they are inherently evil beings. The parasitism of the psychopaths who become the leaders of the herd cults extends to their nature as deceitful mimics who attempt to copy the greatness of solitary hominids and plagiarize their insights. Sound familiar? Copy their persona and steal their work and thunder for their own destructive psychopathic movement. Psychopaths are by necessity parrots and apes, mimics who ape great people like me. who can only copy normal human beings because they lack the essential and fundamental human qualities of morality, personality, honor, decency, empathy, a conscience, respect for the rights of others, etc. And so must deliberately copy human beings in order to don and concealing disguise and gain and sustain the trust of the herd lest they be exposed as the abnormal and untrustworthy psychopaths they are. The Pied Pipers, Judas Goats, This forces psychopaths to train themselves to be charming and to copy others because psychopaths utterly lack their own personality, insights, and ability to empathize, sympathize, and relate in an ethical way with normal human beings and would immediately expose themselves as the threat they truly are if they instead revealed their intrinsic nature to steal and exploit others for their own purpose. Entirely selfish game without any remorse or shame. Think about Donald Trump. When I've done interviews with people I know are psychopaths, they would often try to speak to me before the interview so that they could pick up things that they could steal from me and present in the interview as if they had thought of it. And they would rehearse it over and over again and memorize it so that they could parrot it. in the interview and I dealt with several psychopaths who exhibited that specific behavior and that was one of the obvious tells that they were psychopaths. I would tell them one of my insights and then they would start to to repeat it over and over again to memorize it and to memorize the way that I said it, the emotion I had when I said it, the emphasis I placed on specific words. And then in the interview, they would present it in exactly that form, parroting me and lie to their audience, pretending that it was their insight and not mine. It happened to me again and again and again, over decades. Beware the psychopaths who try to copy and try to steal the thunder of the eternal survivors. They will mislead you and deliver you into the hands of the enemy and ultimately help produce your extinction. They are working for the enemy. Herd animals are instinctively susceptible to the machinations and Svengali-like mesmerizing manipulation of psychopaths who evolve together with them by their very nature to, by their very nature, exploit and abuse the inherently gullible Majority of the herd. Herd animals can only survive by following their leader because they are ostracized for disobedience and as a result evolved into increasingly stupid and gullible animals that can't function or survive independently. Those who tend towards being more of a solitary hominid than a herd animal benefit from a highly evolved set of genetic traits. which set them apart as superior beings. It is only because the gregarious herd animals outnumber the solitary hominids that the herd animals have been able to stigmatize the solitary hominids as if somewhat abnormal, antisocial, and introverted. In turn, solitary hominids often view herd animals as gullible, slavish, stupid, and duped beasts who are under-evolved and lack the ability to think and act independently without regards to the consensus, opinions, and directions of the frequently misguided herd, even when the common views of the herd are obviously false and detrimental to the best interests of the individual herd animal itself as well as the entire herd as a community and the enemy has learned very well how to exploit all that. The enemy has developed an instinct for how to exploit that and lie openly, nakedly, shamelessly lie to the faces of the goyim and they swallow it because the Jews have evolved to be able to do that successfully to manipulate the callable goyim. The enemies of humanity plan to kill everyone else off while the gullible herd animals submit to and clamor for their own mutual destruction in order for their messiah, their herd boss, their alpha male Jesus Christ to arrive and save them from themselves because they have been duped into believing they are intrinsically evil and need redemption through their own deaths. It is a common human flaw to falsely expect that because a psychopath is charming they can be trusted and are well-intentioned. Psychopaths evolve together with the normal masses they exploit and bear both bear traits the psychopaths exploit just as the head sheep brutalizes and dominates its flock and just as the parasitic tick numbs its host and sucks its blood Different species of herd animals have experienced similar evolutionary pressures, and human herds bear many of the same characteristics, which are nearly universal among herd animals of all sorts. And as you think about this, you're going to start to observe this in your everyday life. You're going to realize what total herd animals most human beings are and the animal origins. of their behaviors, which is in common with other herd animals. You're going to see it everywhere. Herd humans have evolved to be inherently susceptible to the charms of psychopaths who have evolved to bear the traits they need to exploit normal human beings. When a solitary hominid challenges a psychopath who has the backing of the herd, the herd turns on the hero. who is trying to save them and can save them because they have the intelligence and the insight and the originality and the perspective to save them and suicidally backs the psychopaths leading them to their demise. They get behind the Judas Goat, behind the Pied Piper. unless and until the herd senses that a majority is gathering in support of the hero and or is shaken by the undeniable exposure of the psychopath as their existential enemy. That's why it's so vital to expose these psychopaths. The herd is usually swayed not by its own best interests, but instead by its individual's desire to be liked by strictly conforming to the consensus opinions and general appearance of the herd. due to the personal insecurities and self-consciousness of its members and the collective peer pressure imposed on them, which is often directed by their psychopathic messianic figure, Jesus. The herd likes to play. Follow the Leader. The herd likes to play Follow the Leader and has an intrinsic affinity to follow psychopaths who charm the herd, not solitary hominids condescending to try to save the herd out of compassion for it. The herd is too stupid to recognize the truth, so it clings to the dogma that the psychopaths spoon feed it. Preachers take advantage of the messiah shepherd myth of Christianity because it conditions their flock to view them as local messiahs they must follow or be damned and ostracized. They posture as the head sheep in the herd. Herd animals instinctively fear being ostracized and employ ostracization as a weapon against each other and solitary hominids to enforce conformity and inspire fear leading to conformity the same way the courts and the laws do exactly the same thing to enforce compliance with the law. The universal enemy of humanity has exploited the instinct of the herd to seek to be led by charming psychopaths and used it to infiltrate and take over all the nations of the world by providing them with their local messiahs. The enemy pits all sectors of humanity against each other for their planned mutually assured destruction and they will likely succeed in exterminating the herd subraces as well as the superrace should we fail to take control over our own fate by segregating from the doomed subraces who are deliberately setting about to extinguish themselves and each other and us. The superrace must not lose its vital energy and instinct for independence and go down together with the subrace, which saps us of our energy through the dead weight of its empty-headed inertia, subservience, conformity, insecurity and obedience, and become, like them, extinct. The enemy of all humanity is about to exterminate mankind by pitting brother against brother in a universal fight to the death of all. It is incumbent upon the superrace to leave the subrace behind as it eradicates itself and instead pursue and ensure the superrace's survival. It is time for the superrace to turn the tables on the subrace and ostracize it, which has always sought to ostracize us. There is only hope for a small remnant of the very best human beings, the solitary hominy. to survive the coming engineered existential catastrophe. These eternal survivals, let me take a drink of water. These eternal survivors instinctively feel an urgent drive to prepare now for what is assuredly coming. to wipe out the rest of mankind. They instinctively know that the gullible and stupid herd has no hope of surviving the approaching calamities or ability to defeat the increasingly powerful and destructive enemy of humanity that is determined to exterminate them and has total control over the herd's thoughts and actions. People are completely blind to the changes that are coming. The advanced technologies that are emerging are going to give the enemy a commanding lead over the rest of humanity and they're going to use it to not only kill us, but to torture us before they kill us off. Do not underestimate the impact that emerging technologies are going to have on all of us and on warfare. And if solitary hominids don't seize the opportunity right now to take advantage of that for ourselves, we too will be doomed to extinction. The herd have embraced their existential enemies, suicidal mythologies, Christianity, Islam, communism, capitalism, etc., and welcome and even insist upon their own demise falsely believing it is their only hope for salvation, forgiveness for the sins they never committed, and for immortality. It is vital to prevent the demise of the superrace by keeping them from going down together with the deluded and self-destructive subrace whose inevitable fate is to disappear from existence because it lacks the evolutionary traits necessary to resist and defeat the collectively psychopathic and genocidally hostile enemy of humanity. The super race no longer has any need for the sub race since all of its previous functions are now being supplanted and performed by emerging technologies which better serve the solitary hominids than the increasingly useless obstructive suicidal and self-destructive herd animals who are under the spell of the enemy and knowingly serve its genocidal agenda. Solitary hominids with legions of robots and AI can act immediately and decisively in their own best interests, which will enable them to outperform and outcompete the subrace and the enemy who are reduced to the lowest common denominator of groupthink, peer pressure, insecurity, bureaucracy, ancient and false dogma, indecisiveness, and base Foolishness, self-consciousness, and who lack the advanced and superior evolutionary traits of the super race. Solitary hominid will become the fittest, freest, and most successful organism in the emerging environment dominated by computer intelligence and robotic labor. We're the fittest. Evolution is now favoring us. We need to seize that opportunity and take advantage of it. Conditions increasingly favor the survival of the solitary hominid of the superrace over the herd animal of the subrace, so the enemy focuses on discouraging and disincentivizing the breeding of the superrace, while concurrently sponsoring the dysgenic reproduction and invasive migration of the worst of the subrace, knowing it will soon die out as well. Natural Selection will strongly favor and increasingly favor the eternal survival of the super race and eliminate the herd animals of the subrace who had previously borne the advantage of their strength in numbers and unity of purpose. However, misguided and ill-intentioned, it may at times have been under the ill-will guidance of the psychopaths who lead and exploit the herds and their own often selfish, brutish, and cruel group natures. The herd can be really horrible, as Hobbes pointed out. But only if the subrace act according to their nature instead of their instruction, their indoctrination to hate themselves, to kill themselves off like the herd animals. The religion of eternal survivors engages in introspection and understanding of oneself rather than worry about and bother with what the herd thinks of them. Solitary hominids devote themselves to exploring their own inner nature and the real meaning of their lives because our ancestors survived. We need to find ourselves. within us, within our DNA, is our means to survive by becoming ourselves and keeping that knowledge to ourselves so the herd animals don't benefit from it. The super race has survived for hundreds of thousands of years because it is gifted with an innate superior nature that facilitates its survival and which can save and preserve us today it will continue to survive if and only if it obeys its unique true nature instead of the peer pressure of the herd animals the super race must look within not to its enemies and it must keep what it finds inside itself a carefully guarded secret not to be shared with the subrace or the enemy. The herd animal's deliberate suicidal eschatological plans will erase them from existence. The entire earth will then be ours. The end times prophecies of eternal survivals anticipate that the herd animals will succeed in their quest to become extinct and find desire to become extinct We have to plan for their likely success and act to be able to endure and outlast the devastation the herds insist upon inflicting on humanity and the earth in order to wipe themselves out. Though their prophecies are largely open, it is necessary to keep the major prophecies of eternal survivors secret and they are within us. They are coded into our DNA so as to prevent the enemies of solitary hominids from anticipating our actions and being aware of our knowledge of theirs. Eternal survivors are planning now for the post-apocalyptic paradise of tomorrow. The coming extinction of the herd animals provides an opportunity for the solitary hominids to acquire vast territories and total autonomy, self-determination, self-sovereignty, and freedom of thought and action. Their extinction will also be tremendously eugenic. It'll be like founding a new America all over the face of the earth. We are the founding fathers and mothers. Their extinction will also be tremendously eugenic and preclude the dysgenic and genocidal admixture of the genes of the inferior subrace with those of the superior superrace. The superrace should now be planning and preparing for this welcome future by acquiring the semen and eggs of the superrace and developing a new generation of weaponry with which to deter the aggression of the enemy and slave races. The super race should employ its evolutionary advantages to the fullest extent possible, and instead of working with the subrace for the benefit of the enemy, separate and segregate from the subrace and the enemy whenever it is possible and advantageous to do so. The super race should never aid the enemy by creating weapons, products, and technologies the enemy and its slaves will eventually and inevitably use in an attempt to exterminate everyone. And by that I mean provide them to the enemy. We should create them for ourselves. Super A should become masters of new physics, which I have, geometry, science and technology and utilize robotics and AI and emerging AGI to surpass the severe limitations of hominid experience, awareness and understanding. to create new weapons and perform undetectable actions outside the scope of human understanding for the benefit and survival of the super race of solitary hominids. We need a cloak of invisibility and to encourage the herd animals to believe they're being punished by their gods when we defend ourselves. The herd has already succumbed to the enemy and sealed its own fate. The only moral action for the subrace to take now is to survive in spite of the subrace herd, not commit collective suicide together with it by consuming our resources in a vain attempt to enlighten and rescue the ill-fated herd, which vain attempt would only expose all efforts to survive to the enemy, which resides as a fifth column in Trojan horse everywhere among the herd peoples of the earth. The enemy pledged themselves thousands of years ago in the book of Deuteronomy to spread out to the ends of the earth and infiltrate, subvert, and destroy every nation from within and without. The enemy always infiltrated other races by intermarrying with them and pretending to be one of them. Expect the enemy to try to do the same to us. Jacob deceives Esau, tricks Esau, grabs Esau's heel. Survival compels secrecy and exclusion, which are instinctive to solitary hominids and give us an evolutionary advantage to survive the evolutionary pressure of the invasive, interfering and spying enemy and its agents and assets. We need to make it unconstitutional in a civil rights violation. for the enemy and the state to do that to us. Solitary hominids must exercise discipline and view themselves as lone wolves among herds of sheep who gather to eat and die together while pointlessly bleeding in meaningless cliches to pass the time between birth and death like so much gas out of their backsides. There is infinitely more important more import and purpose to the self-assemblage and reproduction of solitary hominids of the super race who can far more fully observe and grasp reality than the crude gathering of molecules which form the underevolved dull herd that is forever blind to what is actually occurring around and within them Talking about loving ourselves and saving ourselves and giving up on the herd, which is doomed. Sympathy and self-sacrifice for an enemy who fights us when we try to help it. Sympathy and self-sacrifice for an enemy is misplaced and suicidal, though it is especially encouraged in the super race, especially the women of the super race, that tends to be heroic and compassionate due to its evolution. While a minority existing among fundamentally inferior beings, it has historically been obliged to tolerate and save for its own benefit. However, the super race is no longer obligated to save the subrace in order to survive itself. We now have robots and AI. Instead, the super race must preserve itself in spite of the subrace's deliberate self-destruction and take advantage of emerging technologies to replace the superfluous and destructively gullible subrace. Revelation through Self Discovery. That's how I revealed this religion to myself from my own DNA. Eternal survivors have faith that the evolution of their ancestors produced an inner nature which enables them to survive in a fit environment that favors their survival. In order to be the fittest to survive in a given environment, the superrace must know itself through self-contemplation, experience, analysis, data collection, and observation. It must modify the environment to foster its own survival. as all life does down to the basic activity of constructing shelters and consuming food and having reproductive sex. Survival of the fittest is not only a function of the fitness of the organism, but even more importantly the fitness of the organism's environment. That's a unique insight to me that I really want to stress. We are only fit to survive in an environment which sponsors our survival. We gain control over matter to create an environment that is fit for us to survive. We shouldn't only focus on the fitness of our organism, we have to focus on the fitness of the environment to sustain our organism and the enemy is continually trying to render the environment unfit for us. It is surrounding us with hostile enemy invaders it is feeding us poisonous genetically modified food that turns us into sterile genetically modified organisms we as objects in matter need to gain control control over matter so that our food chains and ecosystems are preserved so that what goes into our body is fit to preserve us to replicate us to assemble us you got to get that through your heads and understand how crucial that is and we got to do it now because they are changing what we are they are modifying our organism to kill us off. And we are in the position where people are unaware of what is happening. And they're blaming their cancers on Satan. And they're thinking that God is going to save them from their cancers. This is herd perspective on reality. We need solitary hominid perspective on reality. We have to be scientific. We have to gain control. and eliminate these carcinogens and toxins and genetically modifying substances from our environment and create a healthy ecosystem food system um air water etc we need a fit environment we are already fit organisms sustaining our survival we don't have to worry about being fit organisms we are fit organisms we're self-loving we're out for ourselves now we need to focus on the environment and make sure that we have a fit environment so that we can survive um The enemy is making every effort to render our environment unfit for our survival and to alter our genetics so that we cannot survive in any environment by miscegenating us, reducing our fertility, and genetically modifying us into unviable, dying out beings. We have control over our environment If only we take it, but that requires actions and not merely words and wishes, which is why I get so frustrated with other people because I'm continually acting like creating this website and this religion. I'm going beyond words and wishes. I'm acting. Everyone else has to act as well if they want to survive. The superrace bears the unique advanced evolutionary traits of high IQ, insightfulness, creativity, independence, premonition, and telepathy, which the subrace largely, if not entirely, lacked. The inferior nature of the subrace led them to produce vulgar mythologies, messianic god mythologies of herd animals. to which their lesser minds can relate. Members of the superrace have neuroreceptors which experience sensual stimulation the subrace cannot and awareness of things in the world that they cannot see. And the attendant ability to conceptualize and consciously perceive, correlate and understand these sensorial experiences to which the subrace is entirely blind, can't even imagine that such things exist. It is incumbent upon us to overcome and abandon the religious, mathematical, geometric, physical and metaphysical mythologies that evolve from this underevolved herd animal subrace and severe limitations of the blind subrace and to not only free ourselves from these blinders, but to look clearly at what is real and properly understand it. Thankfully, we have both the senses and the sensibility of the mental structures to process these experiences which the subrace entirely lack and to look plainly at what is and what is within us as opposed to their limited desire to pretend into existence what they want there to be. They don't look at what it is. They want to imagine something that is not and pretend that that's something that fiction is reality. We will create and employ our new science and technologies to progress beyond all others with our new physics and geometry that will enable us to survive as the subrace self-immolates, immolates, sets themselves on fire, burns themselves up. That's why I use the image of the phoenix. They're going to render themselves into ashes and then we rise. We can then build our paradise. The masses are underevolved, unfit to survive in the highly destructive near future and will go extinct by design. Their extinction is our opportunity. We are preparing for a post-apocalyptic paradise by coming to better understand ourselves becoming self-aware looking within finding ourselves and our requirements and how to meet them gathering and preserving DNA and I mean not only on a spiritual level but on an actual real physical level gathering and preserving DNA from our ancestors as well as maintaining eugenic sperm and egg banks and encouraging and enabling Natural reproduction of our own kind will enable us to quickly populate the earth with our own descendants after the apocalypse has exterminated the subrace and even before this calamity is completed. Perfecting artificial human reproduction and cloning technologies will accelerate the process and may afford new eugenic possibilities in reproduction. We could produce millions of our people every year. tens of millions, developing ecosystems and food chains that foster and maintain genetic health. We need a fit environment. We are already fit to survive, but we need an environment that is fit for us to survive. We'll ensure the purity and maintenance of our kind, those who have an inner drive to find an ideal mate and an intrinsic vision of who he or she will be, the ideal mate's character. appearance, attributes, etc. will have ample opportunity to select among numerous available mates and we will have assets available to facilitate these opportunities to meet potential mates of the highest quality to improve the subrace through eugenic breeding instead of these whores and scumbags on the internet encouraging the races to interbreed and to interbreed with the worst scum of the earth. Through eugenic breeding, a subrace will have killed itself off and their genetics will no longer pose a threat to us, to ours. Those people will no longer exist by the way. The soul is a chain. Each link is an eternal moment which coexists forever with every other moment. I'm going to go over this more deeply in another presentation. The soul is consciousness and the material structure that produces it. The immortality of the soul is assured by its existence in each moment which exists forever. I'm talking about Eleatic beliefs. I'm talking about Pagliaghi, Minkowski, Poincaré, the block universe. Eternal survivors knows that each step and stage Parmenides in Plato is a big one on this. Know that each step, although my vision is different, each step and stage of their being is eternal and unique. The chain can be long or short, but each link is eternal and distinct. The extension of the soul from moment to moment is made longer by a long life and many offspring, which extends chain and its many branches, not by mythically transcending into a mythological afterlife, which never occurs in every moment of life. The being and attributes of the human organism are entirely different from every other moment. And no immortal soul encompasses them all or any two of them. No independent, unchanged, immortal soul transfers from a given moment to the next. We are completely different in every moment, so the concept of an immortal soul that goes unchanging forever is absurd. And no such immutable thing exists which could transcend into a mythical eternity. The very process of existence is a process of becoming and changing. So there's no such thing as an immortal soul. Instead, entirely different, but related beings are grouped together and given the same abstract name and are said, to have an immortal soul in many religions, but no such thing exists. And the concept is nothing but a delusion of language, which symbolizes nothing that can be observed and understood. We call the same person the same soul by the same name again and again throughout their lives, even though they are completely different organism from moment to moment. So it is something that remains the same in language and abstraction only. But in reality, in exists as a chain of ever-changing beings. It only has unity in language, in abstraction. Each individual measurable physical actual thing is different from moment to moment. DNA comes much closer to the myth of an immortal soul, even though DNA is molecules and particles and is constantly changing. Immortal soul, then the abstraction of an unchanging spirit that inhabits the ever-changing matter of a constantly changing body, an organism. Anything that changes is not immortal and a person continually changes or would not exist outside of a singular moment. Is my immortal soul me right now? Me when I was first born? Me when I was five years old? Eleven months and four days and two hours and five seconds? I mean it's just absurd which one of me is my immortal soul it's asinine the spirit of the matter and it's all we only have the image that these are all the same beings because we use the same name Christopher Jon Bjerknes to call that ever-changing set of individual different organisms throughout that extension of my life The spirit is the matter and what is called the same spirit passing through time and language is in observable fact an entirely different being each distinct moment the group exists despite the consistent appellation applied to the entire group and its different and distinct parts in each moment of time the subrace is the illusion of an immortal soul and I've understood this my entire life depends upon the abstraction of language which calls the many unique and independent beings which comprise the group of beings of an entire lifetime by one name only and therefore deludes the mind into believing that these infinite many are all one in the same being because the same title, the abstraction, the symbol, the label has abstractly been attached to the independent and different various real material entities of a group of distinct beings called by the same abstract name. But every measurable and observable aspect of everything changes from one moment to the next and never returns to a former state in the eternal flux of the structure of the universe. Survival and offspring are the real means of extending the soul by increasing the number of moments in which the grouping extends, not death and a mythical entrance into a fictitious afterlife. When you die, the chain is broken. There are no forms anymore that can be grouped together to be called you. Except your corpse, inanimate corpse. In observable fact, each successive rotting corpse. Putrid, disappearing corpse. In observable fact, each successive moment of existence is an afterlife of the previous moment by the extension of matter and energy through time. And the being that exists in each successive moment is entirely different in every observable and measurable aspect from the being that existed in the previous moment. There is no immoral soul that goes unchanging through the extension of the human being through time. The religious objective of eternal survivors is to increase the extension of what is commonly called their soul, their life, by increasing their lifespan, cloning themselves and bearing offspring who resemble them branching out. Whereas other religions fail to make good on their abstract promises of immortality, which lack definition and are meaningless, as I just proved. and cannot produce an afterlife or immortality. Eternal Survivors provides and seeks real, testable, observable solutions that actually work and are proven to work. That's my insight. Others try to steal that from me, but it's my insight that the other religions don't work. They don't give you what they promise. Eternal Survivors does. Christianity does not give you immortality Christianity does not make you live longer cure your cancer bring you wealth make you likable you do all those things for yourself there's nothing efficacious about it in any real sense but mine is scientific so there is Other religions don't work. Christianity, Islam don't work. That's why you see Christians being mass murdered, Muslims being mass murdered. The religions are bullshit. They are not successful. They have no efficacy. They can't do anything. They don't work. They're mythologies, abstract mythologies. Eternal Survivors works and offers testable and observable proof of its efficacy, not blind faith in abstractions. It works like an antibiotic works as opposed to a voodoo spell. Founding mothers and fathers established the races, clans, and nations. Norse mythology teaches that Ask and Embla the ash tree and the elm tree were the founding father and mother of humanity that there will be an apocalypse I'm going to talk about all this again some other time and that a new founding couple that there will be an apocalypse and that a new founding couple who hides out in a tree will repopulate the world after all others go extinct there will indeed be an opportunity for founding couples even founding individuals to establish new racist clans and new nations the new super race that's part of the earth developing hominids into a single brain the apocalypse of the herd races is occurring now though most fail to realize that we're in the midst of it they are killing off humanity right now they are being bred out through miscegenation being deliberately rendered increasingly sterile and are disincentivized from reproducing only certain peoples are being encouraged to increase their populations and ours is not among them The apocalypse is observably real and is happening now. Earthly matter self-assembles into self-replicating living organisms, which manifest the coded order of the DNA of their phenotype by structuring matter through the direction of forces, which impart motions and create, maintain, or destroy material forms as the inevitable extension of matter through time. The actions of our ancestors were inevitable and inevitably produced us as part of the extended chain of life in which we take part. creating the living organism of the earth, which is now in its embryonic state. Whether or not our progeny continue to reproduce and self-assemble eternally depends upon our actions now, which will inevitably produce their ultimate and perpetual survival or extinction. So it is vital that we utilize our advanced intelligence to act in such a manner as will most probably and inevitably ensure the continued existence of the new superrace and our descendants. At present, all forms of hominids are instead acting to inevitably ensure their own extinction. Given enough time, life will eventually evolve to convert all the matter of the earth into life forms and structures which feed and sustain life, ecosystems, and food chains. Evolution is opportunistic and tends toward converting the entire earth into a singular living being with organ and tissue-like species and environments performing Various and often interrelated functions. I've described those in the past. Hominids have the potential to evolve into the brain of the earthly planetary being and the intelligent brain of the planet. But we got to get rid or the enemy is going to get rid of the herd animals so that they do not become a collective brain. And we or I am going to replace them as a soul brain, a soul into In effect, becoming its god, its thoughts, its character and its destiny, the entire earth is like a seed growing and nourishing itself with itself. It's like the seed that carries its own nourishment together with it. And then it sprouts when it hits fertile soil, like becoming part of the solar system and receiving energy from the sun. But I'm sure there are other ways. to transform its own matter into an integrated living being largely powered by the energy of the sun. In its present embryonic state, the earth is finding itself and unfolding into its ultimate form. Mutations generate healthy and improved, more fit organisms, systems, and food chains that convert increasingly greater proportions of the matter of the earth into life and life-sustaining forms and structures, many of which harvest the energy of the sun. The process also produces destructive cancers and deadly parasites like the enemy, which is going to wipe out the herd animals because it is a cancer, a mutation of the herd animals. Competing hominid groups view themselves as if their own immune systems and seek to destroy and eradicate threatening and competing rival hominids. in a broad competition for the throne of the earth. Eternal survivors, the superrace of solitary hominids at last have the opportunity to free themselves from the herd animals who are committing collective suicide and to replace the soon to be extinct herd animals with robotics and artificial intelligence, which will replace the subrace and serve their purpose in sustaining the superrace. But in order to survive and succeed, the superrace must act now or the narrow window of opportunity will shut forever and they too will perish together with the herd animals who are being shepherded into the grave by the psychopaths they blindly follow. Reality is naturally perceived and understood by members of the super race in ways the sub race cannot even begin to fathom intellectually or experientially. Most especially after members of the super race have shed the mythologies, the herdish mythologies of the sub race and look plainly and rationally at what actually is occurring in the universe without being inhibited by the limitations and myths of the subrace and open the hidden eyes of the receptors in their brains which the subrace lack and activate the sometimes dormant mental structures which incorporate those unique sensual experiences into their conscious impressions, conceptions, images, expectations, understandings, memories, expectations, and thoughts. The superrace has evolved with neural receptors attuned to the future as well as the past in the mental capacity to perceive order and comprehend geometry and existence in ways the subrace cannot experience or grasp. AI will be able to connect reality in ways A.I. will be able to connect to reality in ways in which no hominid can and the race which trains A.I. to do this and provides it with the receptors it needs to perceive what humans cannot will gain an insurmountable commanding and overwhelming advantage over all other races and be able to defend itself from all enemies and we have to win that competition. There is currently a contest to achieve this goal. First, it is a winner-take-all competition. And at present, the enemy leads, but is inhibited by its lack of creative intelligence. They are herd animals, which is far beneath that of the subrace. I'm a solitary hominid. I exceed their intelligence infinitely and have derived and discovered insights which no other human being ever has before me. The most important insight, solving the greatest problems and issues of humanity. All races have eyes to see light, ears to hear sound, and hands to feel and shape matter, but only the super race has evolved to have the physical sensors and mental structures and abilities to experience and imagine the ether, the future, and telepathically communicate with one another and the highly advanced intelligence to incorporate all of these experiences into a consistent vision of and perspective on reality as opposed to mythology. And as opposed to the herd perspective on the world, which is diluted by nature. The under-evolved subrace not only lacks the necessary neural receptors, but also the neurological structures which interpret, filter, and direct those sensations into the images and thoughts of consciousness and useful perceptions with which to interpret reality and into memories and premonitions. In this sense, the subrace is soulless and blind, which is why it is compelled to create and rely upon dogmatic mythologies which are sensible to it given its limited exposure and ability to process its grossly restricted sensual experiences, intelligence, and awareness of reality. Their vain attempts to define reality through mythology are like any attempt to breathe water instead of air. They cannot see reality, let alone define or explain it. Instead, they drown in it. Those members of the subrace who read this will have no ability to relate to it. It is outside of their experience and ability to understand. They are unaware that there are people who can see it, like me, experience and understand things which are beyond the experience of the subrace. AI and AGI will extend this gap even further and give us an unbreachable and insurmountable advantage over the subrace. because our gifts enable us to train AI in ways the subrace cannot because it does not even recognize that such possibilities exist. And I have to be very careful not to reveal that to the enemy of the subrace. Christianity says salvation is of the Jews. I say salvation is of intelligence. and experiment other religions are based upon mythology and therefore are not and cannot be effective in obtaining their stated goals other than by inspiring action and habit based on actually tested improving methods or by sheer luck and in those instances it is the people who are actually acting who are bringing about the results they seek and not gods or supernatural beings or demons or hoodoo voodoo whatever Other religions simply do not work to achieve those same things. In other words, those same things could be achieved without the religion, and it is not the religion that is achieving it. It is the people who are achieving it. Other religions simply do not work to achieve their advertised goals. They cannot grant you immortality, cure your disease, save you from danger, increase your fertility, or rescue your race or nation from internal and external enemies or non-existent demons and gods. They do not teach you the truth or lead you to it. Instead, they delude you into believing that you are nothing and are inferior to fictional gods, the alpha males, the alpha females, the alpha couples that are mythological that they have to believe in because they're stupid herd animals. who create rules and laws you must obey in service to the supposedly divinely inspired psychopath class who govern you and rule the herd. In absolute contrast to the ineffectiveness of mythologically based religions, eternal survivors is scientific, rational, and data-driven. It is effective, flexible, and adaptive, unlike religions which are dogmatic and false. Eternal Survivors serves to develop technologies and practices which prolong life, increase fertility, and eugenically improve the new super race in measurable, observable, and proven ways because we depend on reality, the material and immaterial world of the ether, not upon non-existent gods. My new religion generates new physics, new technology, new geometry and mathematics, and new intelligent morality, which are only accepted as the standard for as long as they remain in agreement with observable facts and logic and promote the best interests of the individual and protect him or her from the tyranny of the herd. They are consistently tested and forever subject to revision or abandonment when necessary. I do not create dogmas in short eternal survivors works actually works as a religion revealing truth and prolonging the longevity of the individual bloodline and new super race where other religions are dogmatic mythological and only create destructive delusions and inhibit progress and survival and do not work other religions do not and cannot work they are dogmatic and often destructive mythologies created by the limited intelligence of the subrace, which does not and cannot experience reality as fully as the more highly evolved subrace. Sovereignty, property and territorial rights, another subject for another day. Solitary hominids recognize that we are self-assembling, self-replicating, molecular, I should add self-aware. Molecular structures composed of the matter of the Earth, all life organizes and orders matter, which tends toward turning the entire planet into an integrated living being composed of self-replicating and self-assembling living matter that not only innately modifies itself based upon the coding of its DNA, but also reforms animated and inanimate environmental matter into revised form which benefit living beings, survival, and reproduction, like building houses, which animals also do. I should say other animals. Life produces food chains and ecosystems which tend toward converting all the matter of the earth into life itself or forms which benefit increase and sustain life. Which process tends towards converting all the matter of the earth into one organism, the living planetary being? DNA succeeds in the earthly environment. It is not only the DNA of the living beings who bear it, but the evolving DNA of the matter of the entire living earth. Solitary hominids serve similar conscious functions for the earth of those of neurons in their own brains. We are the intellect of the planet. at least some of us. It is our duty and purpose to preserve and increase our own life form and maintain an environment which is beneficial to our lives and preservation. The matter of the earth which forms us and is under our control is shared by all life and is destined to become or sustain life. Many religions have viewed the earth matter as our mother and the sun energy as our father. To the extent that view is useful in relating our lives to our planet and solar system, those myths are wise and helpful. After the herd animals have exterminated one another, we will form new societies which openly recognize the primary role that matter and energy play in our existence and use them to our best advantage. At present, our understanding of matter and empty space vastly differs from the innate conceptions of herd animals who have not sufficiently evolved to be able to perceive and grasp the fuller nature of matter, ether, time, space, and geometry, how they function, and ways in which they can be controlled by us to preserve and defend ourselves. We will keep this sacred, intrinsic knowledge secret as our own private treasure and the gifted inheritance of our ancestors and our highly evolved genetic superiority. We are a community of the founders of a new super race which will survive the self-destruction of the failed under evolved sub race that has pledged itself to exterminate itself. If you are one of us, join us and we will survive and thrive together forever eternal survivors. So there you have it. That's the declaration of my new religion for my new super race. That's my gift to humanity, but only one sector of humanity. I'm not giving this to the herd animals. They can't appreciate it. They can't understand it. They can't relate to it. They can't see the universe. through this lens because they are herd animals. They need alpha figures. They need messiahs. They need gods. They need to pretend that the world is something that it is not. They want the world to be what they want it to be instead of what it is. They are unable to look at the world and see it as it is. They lack that inability because they are herd animals. They are programmed through their DNA to see the universe through the dogma of their alpha figure. They have to be told what the universe is. They don't look out and see it. they get their opinion of it from others that's the only way that herd animals function they can't look out at the horizon and know the path to take they have to follow the herd and the herd has to be led by the psychopath who points the way and that psychopath especially in the case of christianity and the republican party is a psychopath, is a Pied Piper, is a Judas goat following the enemy's plan to kill them all off. And as I've been saying for 30 years, a big part of that is Christianity. Jews want Christians to believe the God of Israel is going to save them and to trust the plan, the plan of Judeo-Christianity. The God of Israel doesn't exist. No one's going to save them. And the Judeo-Christian plan is to exterminate Christians. Those dumb fuckers won't survive. Don't die with them. That's the purpose of my new religion. It is a new plan for us to survive past the apocalypse that the herd animals are deliberately inflicting upon themselves, upon the earth, upon everyone. We need to survive it. If we survive it, we can build a paradise on the other side of it. They will no longer be the herd animals to interfere with us, to inhibit our freedom, to attack us, to ridicule us, to keep us down, to ostracize us. They will be gone. They will have self exterminated. And that is our opportunity. And that's what's coming. And we can seize that opportunity. And I view these as the prophecies of eternal survivors. So please have a look at my website. As in all things, I put a tremendous amount of work into this, a great expense to myself. If you can contribute, pay your tithings to the church, I'm passing the plate. you got to give you got to give yay if you want to be saved you must pay your tithings and donate to the church amen brothers and sisters but seriously I gotta survive I gotta eat I got people I gotta take care of you guys keep me going please help if you can help at this time especially if you can give some big chunks maybe I could put out some advertising and get this rolling I'm gonna do the merch bullshit deal I'm gonna sell stuff to try to fund this to get this mission forward to get people interested in it to make it appealing and and I can use all of your help and all of that and spreading the word and contributions would be tremendously helpful, especially at this time. You can see how much time I'm putting into this. It's keeping me from making These presentations and I don't lament that I'm thankful that I have that ability and that opportunity and I want to keep it going and I want to do better for you and I can do better for you if I could get some funding finally after 30 years of it if I can get some real funding. and real support and get serious people behind this and start to get some physicists involved in this and mathematicians and other people I have some of that going on right now as you can imagine it's got to be a very selective careful screening process but it's also got to be an urgent process it's got to happen now, but it's so hopeful. There is a paradise on the other side of this, and all we got to do is survive to get there. So I'm going to be going deeper into all of these religious aspects of what time and space and eternity are. And it may be very hard for some people, but I know that there are people that when I explain this to them, they say that's kind of the way they always looked at the world. in a very different way from the way that the subrace does, that they've always kind of understood that each moment exists forever. And it's not that they're one changing being and that the past just disappears forever and the future comes out of nowhere. They understand that everything coexists forever and we can we can unite to mutually support and save ourselves not to become herd animals not to develop dogmas not to have alpha figures but to to change our environmental conditions to make them fit for our survival so that we can endure what is happening and the worst events that are coming soon I want to thank all the people who have expressed concern about my absence recently as I've been working on all this. As I've been saying, we've got to maintain omerta. I couldn't give you a heads up about this. There are people who interfere with everything I do, try to get me banned everywhere I go. So I had to keep my eyes and ears open and my mouth shut about all this until I released it. And I hope you can appreciate that. And forgive me for disappearing. I'm sorry that I alarmed some people. That was not my intent at all. I did not want you to worry about me. I appreciate your concern. And I apologize to you. That was not my intent at all. I did not want you to have horrific images that something may have happened to me. And I'm sorry about all that. Next time I'll find some other way of making it clear that I'm safe and fine. I just need a little time. And that's been a learning process for me. And again, I thank you for your concern and I apologize to you for making you concerned. Thank you so much for watching. I hope you have learned some things. This is pretty deep stuff. It's going to take time for you to assimilate it. But let's talk a little bit about my religion's need for self-exploration. if you are a member of the super race or regardless even herd animals and supplies as well your ancestors survived because they had an innate nature that enabled them to survive and in fact made their survival inevitable we have inherited that that code of survival That manual is in our genes. It is what we are. But it only works if you understand it. You gotta look into yourself. Admire yourself. Fuck all that look-maxing bullshit. Don't worry about what other people think. Don't try to impress them. Don't care if they are impressed. Do not care if they are unimpressed. Do not care how they view you at all. Be yourself. Find yourself. Look into yourself. Everything that you need is inside of you. If you look deep enough into yourself, you can see your entire life past and future you can see everything and you can see it all at once in the present and you can love yourself you can admire yourself no matter what you are no matter what people say or think of you good or bad put all that aside and simply look honestly at yourself and admire yourself and love yourself and that is how you come to be who you are and that is why your ancestors struggled so that you could exist so love that existence appreciate what your ancestors achieved and bear the responsibility of creating the destiny of your progeny that's what this is all about that is why i created this religion and start to look around and examine not only yourself ask yourself why is there this enemy why are there jews out there trying to kill off all the herd animals trying to change the world and make it into their own evil image why are the goyim so gullible and stupid why does the matter of the earth self-assemble and self-replicate into life forms where is all this going what is um The nature of this fertile soil of the earth finding its orbit around the sun, this big seed of the earth that has sprouted life, that consumes the energy of the sun, that consumes the matter of itself to reformulate itself into a great living being you can conceive of the earth becoming a massive human being a massive tree a giant life form all planets could potentially reformulate transform their matter into living conscious forms if that seed can find the fertile soil. Don't give up on this. Don't hate yourself. Don't think that it's inevitable that the enemy comes out of this with your extinction. Instead, find ways to survive past it, and then we can build a paradise on the other side of this. And on the other side of this, I'll see you all next time. Thank you so much. Become an eternal survivor.